The screenshot shows the homepage of the National Tsing Hua University iLMS digital learning platform. At the top, there is a navigation bar with links to LMS, Knowledge Community, My Home, Logout, English, Q&A, and online user count (255). Below the navigation bar, there is a search bar. The main content area features a large circular callout highlighting the "My Courses" section. This section lists ten courses, with the first one, "ILMS 操作教學 (0314) (lms001)", circled in red. To the right of this, there is a "Recent Discussions" section and a "Recent Events" section. A second circular callout highlights the "Marketing Management" course page, showing its course details, announcements, and activities.

The screenshot shows the "Marketing Management" course page. At the top, it displays the course name and a dropdown menu. Below this is a "Important Events" section with a link to "Teacher's Assignment (06-10)". The left sidebar contains a navigation menu with items like "Course Functions (Management)", "Course Description", "Course Calendar", "Discussions", "Group Work", "Shared Notes", "Assignments (2)", "Surveys", "Online Exams", "Attendance (Statistics)", "Members (36)", "Grade Calculation", and "Settings". A third circular callout highlights the "Discussions" section, which is titled "100 Down MBA Marketing Course Outline HOT". It includes a message from Chen Chong-wen dated February 20, 2012, at 19:51:22, addressed to students. The message discusses the course outline and encourages attendance. It also mentions that the textbook will be ordered and purchased. Below the message, there is a note about attending the first class and asking questions. The right side of the page shows a "Recent Discussions" section with several posts and a "Recent Events" section.
